Bleeds & Safety

YES: Background imagery such as photography, illustrations, textures, and colors should extend all the way to the edge on every side, so that the background will bleed off during printing and not show any border.

NO: Key elements such as logos, text, or faces should be at least 0.375" from the edge on every side. If they extend beyond this area closer to the edge, they might get cropped during printing.

File Formatting

Must be at least 300 DPI resolution
Press-quality PDF preferred
All colors in CMYK
